A learning community in the metaverse for media and information literacy of adults

Project Number: 2022-1-AT01-KA220-ADU-000086036

Current status

The ALiVE project consortium is diligently working on the validation of the Alpha Version of Media and Information Literacy Methodological and Competence Framework.

The process is being conducted with the invaluable feedback of 12 esteemed experts and 60 dedicated educators from 6 EU countries actively participating in the project. Their expertise and perspectives will be fundamental in refining and perfecting our framework.

Current status

The ALiVE Framework integrates the extensive research conducted by the consortium of the project with other existing European frameworks on Media and Information Literacy, as well as Digital Literacy.

The main goal of ALiVE project is to provide a solution that empowers adults aged 45 and above to enhance their media and information literacy skills within digital environments. Additionally, we aspire to equip the educational community with a valuable and practical resource to foster engaging training experiences in this crucial domain.

Once the validation phase is successfully completed, the final version of the Framework will be shared on the project's website: www.projectalive.eu.

Events

We are delighted to announce the ALiVE Co-creation Hackathon Event, scheduled to take place on 12th - 14th of July.

Center for Social Innovation (CSI), will graciously host the event in the beautiful city of Nicosia, Cyprus.

Events

The primary objective of the Hackathon is to gather the requirements, to conclude on the main characteristics and to develop the ALiVE Virtual Learning Space (VLE), an interactive and suitable platform for learning and sharing, in an atmosphere of cooperation.

The 12 participants, experts in diverse fields and representatives of the partner organizations involved in the ALiVE project, will bring together their knowledge, skills and perspectives to shape the future of Media and Information Literacy education, and create a platform that inspires and empowers learners around the globe.
